The Archbishop Walsh Eagles head to the playoffs with a competitive spirit. The Eagles have been on both sides of tight 4th quarter games throughout the regular season campaign. Andy Moore is once again at the helm of this year's edition of the Walsh Eagles. Coach Moore brings a wealth of experience with him to the head position and he has earned instant respect from his players. Walsh is known for their hard work and determination every time they take the floor. The loss of a strong senior class from last year's squad has led to Walsh becoming a young team searching for success. Seniors Jake Chapman and Cameron Cook are the only returning players from the 2011-2012 Eagles. Jake leads the team from behind the arc on the floor and has stepped into a leadership role off the court and Cameron has put in valuable minutes in the paint all season. The two seniors have a group of young players behind them highlighted by junior Gregor Greer, sophomore John Watson and freshmen Adam Moore. Ethan Clarke, Keize Hund, and Christian Daugherty have also played important roles throughout the season and will be key in the post season. The Eagles enter the playoffs looking to make a statement.

Bishop Timon / St. Jude High School Tigers

Bryant Fulton

Demone Harris

Manny Welch

The 2012-13 Timon Tigers have had an up and down season, while dealing with one of WNY's toughest schedules. After losing four starters from last year, the Tigers continue to search for consistency. This has been the job of first year head coach, Joe Mihalics.

Throughout the season, the Tigers have been searching for a steady lineup. Regardless, the team goal of winning the Manhattan Cup has not changed. The team feels they are at their strongest at the right time of year. The Tigers have athletes all over the floor.

Three year starter, Bryant Fulton has led Timon with his all-around play. Averaging nearly a triple double the entire year, he's everywhere on the court. His ability to defend all five positions makes him irreplaceable.

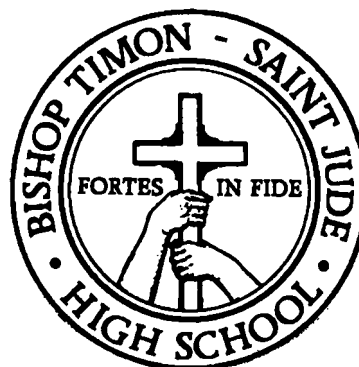

Senior Manny Welch leads the outside attack along with playing tough defense. Senior Demone Harris is the inside presence the Tigers have relied on all year. Harris will continue his athletic career at the University at Buffalo playing football.

Donte Williams, a junior, has dealt with various injuries throughout the year slowing him down. He remains an explosive scorer and deadly in transition. Senior Sean Murphy has been the most consistent player for the Tigers. Very knowledgeable and adds to the presence inside.

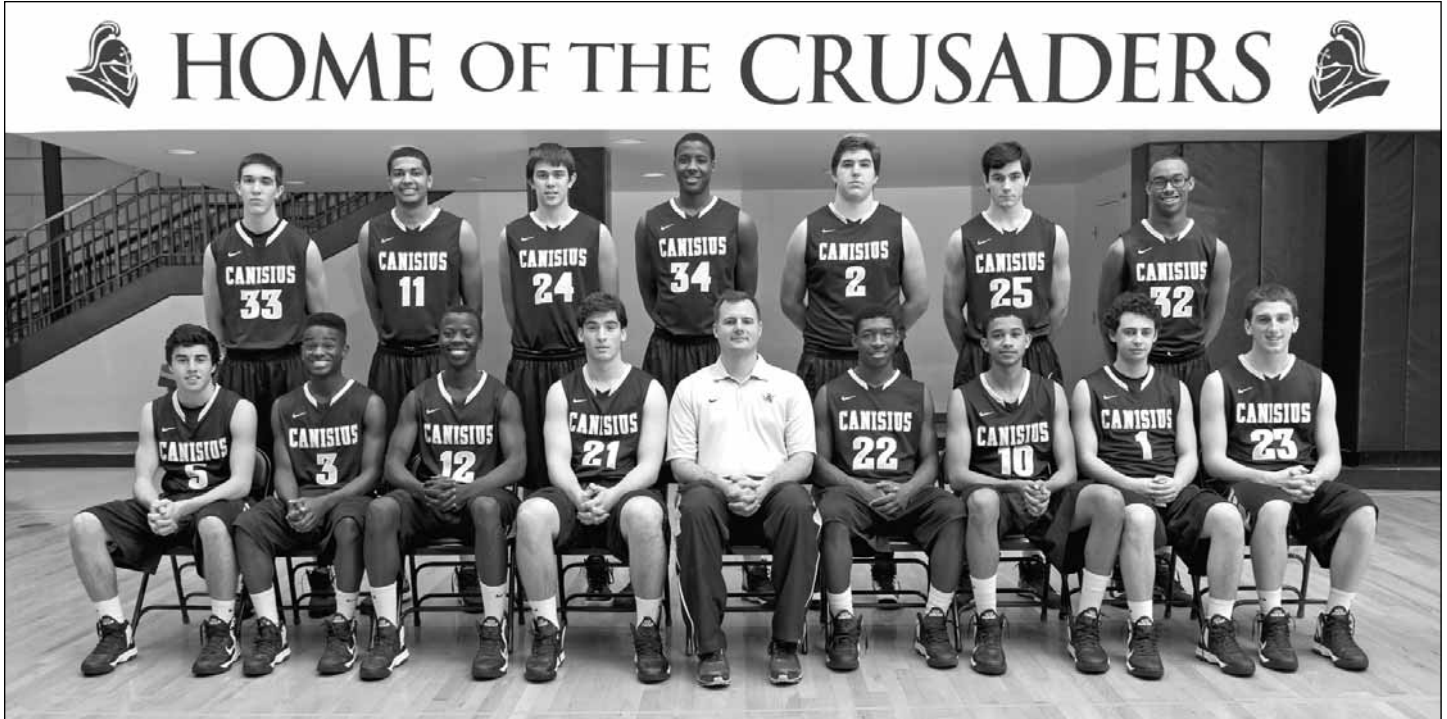

Juniors Layne Collins and Kyler Hairston bring outside support along with defending opposing teams quick guards. Derick Simpson, a sophomore forward, has been a solid addition late in the year. His rebounding and athletic ability matches any teams best.

Rounding out this year's team are Seniors Lew Vaccaro, Tom Camp, Kyle "Polkie" Polakiewicz, and Junior Jordan Ernest.

The Tigers look to put it all together in time to make a strong run at the Manhattan Cup and bring it home to South Buffalo.

Canisius High School Crusaders

Canisius returns 7 letterwinners and 3 starters from last year's Manhattan Cup championship team. Matt MacDonald, Aaron White and Adam Weir bring 2 years of varsity experience into this season along with high expectations for the team and themselves. All three are returning All WNY honorees with Canisius College bound Weir seeking to repeat as a 1st teamer with White and MacDonald looking to join him there. Weir leads the team in scoring and rebounding, MacDonald is second in both categories and White is third in scoring and leads the team in assists in addition to being the team's top defender. MacDonald is a do-it-all type player on both ends of the court and regularly will lead the team in multiple categories as well as many of the intangibles. White uses his quickness to create for teammates on the offensive end or if needed himself and to wreak havoc for opposing players on the defensive end. Weir can score from the outside or at the rim with authority, enjoys setting up teammates for good looks and can rebound with anyone.

Seniors Ryan Raccuia and Jamel Mosley have both seen time in the starting lineup with Raccuia bringing a tenacious presence on the defensive end while showing the ability to knock down a jump shot when needed and make the extra pass at the right time. Mosley provides a low post presence by altering and blocking shots and rebounding on both ends while showing a shrewd touch for a big man from 15 feet. Junior Ryan Richards has started a number of games in the frontcourt and at 6'2 often drawing bigger opponents on the defensive end and doing much more than just holding his own while often rebounding and scoring above the rim. Senior Jake Cercone has provided valuable minutes off the bench with some scoring, blocked shots and the knack to corral some rebounds. Junior Josh Huffman is an instant spark off the bench with his aggressive defense and nose for the ball and ability to score from the outside as well as in the paint. Freshman Howard Washington has gained great experience and continues to improve his game on both ends, while at the same time knocking down big shots and making great passes that has helped the team succeed.

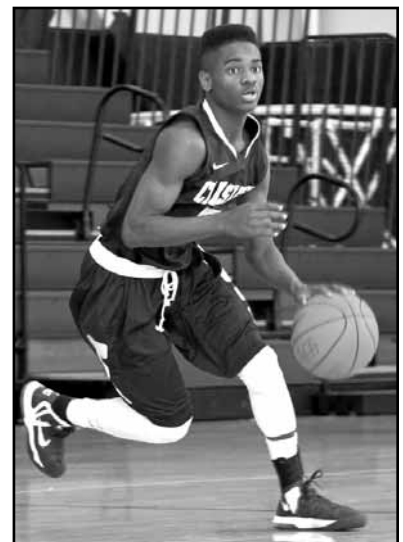

With a solid mix of upperclassmen and newcomers Canisius is looking to finish the year strong having played a very challenging schedule and hoping to be the 1st time to retire the Cup since the 96-98 Canisius teams.

Cardinal O'Hara High School Hawks

The 2012-13 Cardinal O'Hara Hawks are a senior laden team. The senior class includes: Daryl Herring, Keith Carter, Rob Derrett, Jarrett Streicher, Vincent Szlachtun, Tyler Re, Anthony Lobuglio and Marcus MacDonald. The co-captains for this year's squad are Senior, Daryl Herring and junior, Zack Glowacki. Daryl's defensive attitude, dedication and mental toughness have always kept us in the game. Zack Glowacki is well known for his clutch jump shot, high energy and aggressive attack in the paint. Keith Carter, Rob Derrett and Vincent Szlachtun's ability to board at both ends of the floor and aggressive low post action will be a huge factor for the Hawks to continue a playoff run. The Hawks have benefited from long range shooting and support at the guard positions from both Tyler Re and Jarrett Streicher. The junior class has two remaining members on this year's team: Kevin Kobza and Ryan Bidwell. Kevin's strong outside shot combined with Ryan's ability to give us strong minutes at the guard spots will be contributing factors to the success of this year's team. Rounding out this year's squad is our only sophomore, Donel Cathcart. Donel has gained valuable experience this year as a starter. He is a threat on and off the ball with a smooth jump shot and endless athletic ability that he has just begun to unleash. A special shout out to Senior, Anthony DiFrancesco. This would have been his 4th year playing for the hawks, but a late season football injury kept him out.

Niagara Catholic High School Patriots

This years' Patriot team faced the challenge of rebuilding. Returning just five players with some varsity experience to compete in the very tough Monsignor Martin League. Three seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores make up the Patriots, and with two starters returning made it tough for a promising and competitive team.

Junior, Jonathan Jackson (last years' teams second leading scorer), along with junior Andrew Adamson are both returning starters.

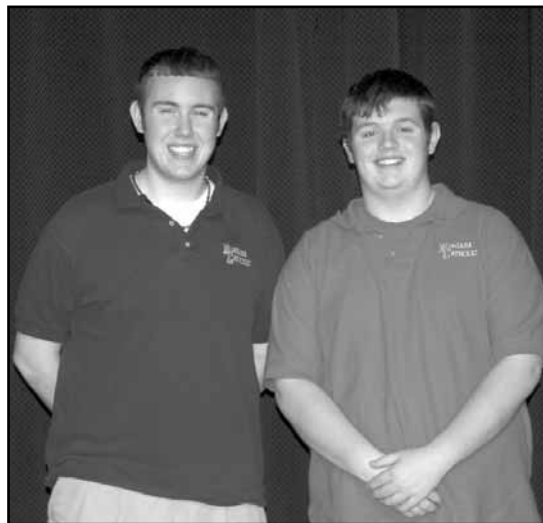

As a junior, Jonathan Jackson is the teams' leading scorer this season, and provides the team leadership. The Patriots thrived from his "team first" attitude, and knew he is willing to do whatever it takes for his teammates. As well he leads the team in assists and steals, and was one of the Patriots best three point shooters. This year Jonathan was voted onto two All - Tournament teams. His work is not just showcased on the court during games, but he is also the teams' best practice player always giving maximum effort. Jonathan is often giving the assignment of guarding the opposing team best player.

Sophomore Andrew Adamson, playing in his second year of high school basketball, provides the team with another scoring threat and is the teams' leading rebounder. He was regularly given the assignment of defending the opposing team's insider power player. He has a world of talent that is often tough for most teams to match up with both inside and outside.

Rounding out this years' starting five is junior guard Brian Thomas and sophomores Craig Paige and Jake Socha. These three individuals give the Patriots all the needed intangibles needed to complete night in and out, with rebounding, toughness, ball handling and running the court. Brian is the teams' best three point and free throw shooter while assisting with the running of the offense. Craig has been a tough player for us since day one of him transferring from NFHS. He inherited the responsibility of being the primary ball handler. Because of his toughness, he often gets tough defensive assignments and is one of the leading rebounders on the team. Craig fills in with many areas that the team often needs help with. Jake rounds out the starting five players. This is also his first year of varsity and as a sophomore; we see nothing but improvement and a bright future for him. Leading the team in Block shots, he really still has not begun to show his talents. He runs the floor very well as a big man and he never backs down to any bigger stronger opposing players. He developed a nice touch around the basket and can shot with some range as well.

It's pretty safe to say that the team is fairly young with a very bright future.

Seniors William Whisker, Justin O'Connor and Alex Nearhood makes up the remaining Patriots 2012-2013 roster. These three young men have done a great job for us this season providing quality minutes off the bench and pushing the starters in practice to make our team better. They truly defined the ideal of "role players" as our team would not have had any successful without their contributions.

Nichols has improved during the 2012/13 season within the MMA and during non-league play. They surpassed their 14 win total from the previous two seasons (4 in 2010/11 and 10 in 2011/12) and have been in the top 10 ranking for WNY small schools most of the season. They earned an early season tournament victory during the Lancaster tip-off tourney with wins against Cleve-Hill and Maryvale, then came back to win the IABBO tournament at St. Bonaventure University with wins against Warren, PA and Olean.

St. Joseph's Collegiate Institute Marauders

This year St. Joe's will seek its 21st Manhattan Cup title and Coach Mark Simon's 5th Cup as they approach this year's playoffs.

This year's Marauders are led by senior Jordan Glover, Jaylen Morris, Dylan Hall, Dan Maher, Louis Oliveri and Mark Cerza. Oliveri and Morris lead the Marauders with 13.5 and 11.1 points per game respectively. Hall averages 5.1 rebounds per game and is joined by Cerza with 4.6 and Maher with 4.1. Senior guard Greg Koch is a constant scoring threat and deadly from 3-point range.

Jordan Glover is the on-court general. He's a good ball handler who hustles all over the court and has scored in double figures on several occasions this season. Rounding out the senior class are Mason Schulefand, Joe Lesh, and Mike Naples.

First off the bench is junior Justin Hollins who averages 8.4 ppg and 3.7 r/g. Phil Wells is a gritty competitor and Tremaine Shelton is tough under the boards.

Adam Killeen, Tyler Hill and Matt Fritz have all contributed to St. Joe's victories during the season. Come March, the Marauders should once again be one of the top contenders for the Manhattan Cup.

St. Francis High School Red Raiders

The 2012-2013 St. Francis Red Raiders are looking to close out their 1st season under new coach Brian Ferris the same way they started it. The Red Raiders began the season strong going 5-3 through their first eight games highlighted by a 2 point victory over the ranked Depew Wildcats in the annual MMAA/ECIC challenge. They followed that up with come from behind thrillers over visiting Lancaster and Lake Shore. The Red Raiders then moved on to play in the Williamsville Jolly Boys tournament where they dropped two tight games, first to host Williamsville South and then Newfane in the consolation game. The Red Raiders moved into league play with a record of 5-5. In league play the Raiders have shown flashes but inconsistency has lead to only one win against Cardinal O'Hara in their first 9 league contests. The Raiders know that if they can put together a consistent 4 quarter effort they can compete in their final league matchups and the upcoming Manhattan Cup playoffs.

Leading the Red Raiders has been a pair of senior guards; point guard Cory Cullen and shooting guard Brennan Macey. Cullen has carried the load for the Red Raiders playing almost every minute of every game, handling the ball against pressure and applying relentless pressure on defense. He is averaging 14.1 ppg, 3.5 apg, and nearly 3 spg. Cullen is also an All Catholic golfer who has verbally committed to attend Canisius College to play for the Golden Griffin golf team. Macey has been the recipient of many of Cullen's passes throughout the season and although he has been battling injuries most of the season, he has been able to play through the pain and average 13.1 points per game, which includes a team high 48 three pointers. Macey looks to get healthy for the playoffs as him, Cullen, and the rest of the seniors look to end their careers on a high note. Senior forward Regan Schichtel does all the dirty work for the Raiders, Schichtel does the little things that don't necessarily show up on the stat sheet, boxing out larger opponents, hustling for loss balls, and getting into position to take charges. Senior guard Kyle Evans and senior forward Wenny Xie have provided depth and leadership coming off the bench and providing valuable minutes for coach Ferris. Ferris has relied heavily on his junior class this season and will look for this group to build on the experience they gained this season. 6'7" junior center Treyvon Holness from Montreal, Canada has started at center all season and has shown steady improvement throughout the year as he adjusted to the ultra competitive MMAA. Holness leads the team in rebounds and block shots as the Raiders have relied on him to control the paint. Swing man David Kennedy, forward Maurice Burse, and guard Sam Utley have played their best basketball as of late and look to continue their strong play as we head into the Manhattan Cup playoffs. The Red Raiders roster is rounded out by juniors Tingyu Meng, Conrad Gawronski, Peter Goszewski, Chris Shriver, Devantie Campbell, Austin Taylor, and Alex Davis who have given a consistent effort throughout the season in practice and games as they learn what it takes to play in the strongest league in WNY.

Coach Ferris, his staff, and players realize that it's not how you start, its how you finish that matters and they look to take that attitude and focus into Manhattan Cup play.

St. Mary's High School Lancers

It was the end of an era for St. Mary's Basketball as coach (and Athletic Director) Dan Gill took a position at a school in Florida. Enter Paul Rath to bring in the new era. Rath has been the head coach for the St. Mary's Junior Varsity team for the past three seasons which makes it an easier transition due to his familiarity with his players and their skillsets. Another advantage was his desire and ability to retain assistant coaches Ryan Hadsall and Leo Wheeler, who help maintain continuity in the program.

The team is led by seniors Paul Rath Jr. and Quinn Gill. Rath Jr's vision on the court makes him a dangerous weapon and displays a great deal of selflessness during the game. Gill's high basketball IQ enables him to keep the mental edge over almost anyone on the court. Junior Tyler English has blossomed and has shown the ability to take over a game. Junior big men; Matt Wrobel and Cory Kiebzak round out the starting lineup for the Lancers. Dione Strong, Latrell Tyson and Dan Fabian provide help off the bench. Brian Dudek and Anthony Hinton have performed well filling in at the guard position when called upon. Ben Evans, Jake Concannon and Aaron Denz play smart and tough and have high expectations for the future. Senior Lucas Schaefer joined his teammates in late January after recovering from a shoulder injury he received during football and is a natural leader.

The Lancers took first in tournaments at Wilson, Akron and Depew this year. They also participated in prestigious events such as the MMA/ECIC Challenge, the Cataract Classic and the Al Pastor-Cooper Tournament.

After making their first appearance in the Manhattan Cup finals last year, the Lancers have their sights on getting another shot at the MMA title.

The 2012-2013 Cardinal O'Hara Lady Hawks might go down as the best team that the co-educational school has seen in its 52-year history. Currently, the team stands strong at 16-0, boasting wins against MMAA large schools as well as non-league victories against Lancaster, Jamestown, Frewsburg, Grand Island, Rochester powerhouse Bishop Kearney, and ranked teams (Warren and Cranberry) from Pennsylvania.

One of the teams' many leaders is senior standout Leah McDonell, who currently sits atop the list of the All-Time Leading Scorers at the high school, and is making her way to the top of the All-Time Leading Scorers list for the league. She is joined by senior point guard Kayla Brown, who has contributed immensely to the team over the last four years and unfortunately sat out a majority of this incredible season due to injury. Sara DiPasquale, who transferred to the school for her last two seasons of MMAA play, certainly made some noise in the post this year, dominating on defense and finishing strong on offense. Mary McDermott rounds out the crew for the seniors, whose sharp shooting has really made a difference in several games.

The four seniors are joined by just four juniors making the team small in numbers, but not lacking whatsoever in dedication and determination. Rising star Keyonte Edwards saw the void left by 2012 graduate Aaron Shabazz and truly sought to fill it as best as she could. She often led the team in scoring during crucial games, and is a formidable opponent on defense - often responsible for the opposing team's best player. She is joined by Kelsey McCarthy, who is among the teams' leaders in rebounding and scoring is consistently the hardest Hawk for other teams to find an answer for. Shooting guard Aisha Shabazz has unparalleled ball-handling skills to go along with her speed and flawless jumper, and Jailyn Dickson is perhaps the most versatile player on the team as she can post up on the block and bury mid-range baseline jumpers with equal consistency.

Coaches Dan McDermott, Nick O'Neil, Matt McDermott, Ron Maxwell and Steve Solomon are very excited about what this team has already accomplished and even more so for what lies ahead down the stretch run. Hawk Pride!

*Quote, Coach Sam: "This group of young ladies is very special. They have shown great character this year in taking on some pretty big challenges. Although we are not yet where we want to be we are taking steps each day in the right direction to getting there. I'm very excited for this great group of girls and knowing that they understand that Together Everyone Achieves More (T.E.A.M.), the sky is the limit for them. I'm very proud of them. We are in the last weeks of the season and the Angels of Holy Angels Academy are working hard to secure 2nd place and 3rd seed in the playoffs. After 18 games we are 11-7 overall and 8-4 in the league. The team is lead by Junior guards Jontay Walton and Awilda Murphy.

Jontay was last year's league player of the year and is again in the running for that award. She has 450 points and is averaging 25 points a game, she also leads the team in assists with 3.3, rebounds 5.8 and steals 6.8, while playing great defense. This year she has surpassed 1,000 points and broke the school's all-time scoring record of 1,289 held by 2002 graduate Katie Jaus. Awilda is a great all-around point guard averaging 14 points a game and dishing out 3.1 assists a game and nearing 800 points for her career. Her on the court leadership, great defense, and 3.2 steals a game work hand in hand with Jontay. Other players are also developing into key contributors. Junior forward Danielle Jones is second in rebounding and third in scoring. Senior forwards Emily Shapiro and Charlotte McLellan and Sophomore Lizzie Hagerty are working hard inside and getting better every game. Guards Emilee Foster (Junior) and Sarah Federowicz (Sophomore) rotate at the 3rd guard spot and play great defense and keep gaining experience with each game under their belts. Meghan Mileham, Kelly Griebner and Carolyn Hoffman work hard every day and make the team better with their high spirit. The Angels are looking to make a strong run for a playoff Championship, GO ANGELS!

The Mount Mercy Basketball team has had a very successful season building on last year. Led by Senior Co-Captains Lee Haggerty, Megan Sheehan, and Marissa Stack, the team won the championships of both the West Seneca West and Matt Colpoys Memorial Tournaments in December. Continuing on this strong start, the Magic doubled their total amount of wins from last year's season with dedication to playing strong team defense. Coach John Glose and Assistant Coach Molly Barrett have emphasized good sportsmanship and teamwork, which is reflected in the team's chemistry on and off the court. The team had the privilege of hosting their first annual Mercy's Heroes game in January to benefit the Wounded Warrior Project. Playing on their home court in new camoflage uniforms, the team was able to raise over $1,500 for the worthy cause. This young Mercy team is looking to continue a successful run into the Monsignor Martin playoffs.

Two of these wins came at the Iroquois Tournament in November, providing a quick start to the team's 2013 season. Looking to build further on the momentum of last season, Nardin started league play with a record of 7-4.

The Gators are led by three seniors (Alyssa Donnelly, Michelle Frawley and Monica Reiser) and six juniors (Nicole Frantz, Hannah Juhasz, Kaela Natwora, Annie O'Brien, Jenny Orié and Isabelle Soares). Six sophomores (Leah Bellitto, Rachel Favre, Megan Jepson, Ainsley Mann, Lauren Wisherath and Kellie Zuger) give the team depth and a promising future.

As of February 5, the Nardin Academy High School basketball team has an overall record of 10-7. The team is averaging 49.6 ppg and holding opponents to 41.2 ppg.

Coach Joe Dougherty, in his third season with Nardin, has continued to build the program based upon strong defensive play and a well-balanced offensive attack. He is assisted by JV coach Meghann Roehl.

Senior Maddie Burns joined the Patriots for her first year and has worked very hard; her positive attitude has been a great influence on the young Patriots roster.

Returning juniors Christina Schulte, Marissa Ruffolo and Jessica Chandler were joined this season by fellow junior Kendra Agee in her first varsity season. Schulte, Ruffolo and Chandler are all getting starting time giving key contributions and gaining valuable experience.

Sophomores Jerastaysia Briggs and Makiya Beswick are first year varsity players for the Patriots this year. They are logging significant playing time and learning as they go.

Freshman Marissa and Marina Campbell round out the roster. These two young ladies have had to learn under fire on the varsity level and have done a great job for us! They have stepped into starting roles for the team and have excelled! The coaching staff is very excited with their progress and looks forward to their continued growth and the future of the program.

This year's version of the Lady Lancers can only be described as awesome! Led by four outstanding seniors, Megan Sheppard (#1), Haley Oakes (#2), Alexx Wnuk (#5) and Kristen Hamilton (#11), the energy, the love, and the friends have returned to the program in a big way! Although the record may not reflect it, this team has a renewed passion, a strong work ethic, and the heart of a champion. The entire team works together, has fun together, and thoroughly enjoys each other's company on and off the court.

A team that came into the season as very inexperienced has really grown up throughout the year. Juniors, Rylee Haffey (#13), Peyton Harris (#20), Ali Casillo (#31), Natalia Dziadosz (#14), and Abby Salamone (#10) have been asked to play large amounts of minutes and have really grown into their roles.
